The Air Force Strings has been an integral part of The United States Air Force Band for over 60 years. Covering a wide range of styles, this ensemble performs as the Air Force Strolling Strings and as part of the Air Force Symphony Orchestra. This group of musicians has been honored to perform at the White House for every president since 1954, and regularly entertains at official dinners hosted by the secretaries of state and defense, on Capitol Hill for members of Congress, and at official diplomatic events hosted by the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and the chief of staff of the Air Force.

Truly international musical ambassadors, the Air Force Strings has traveled to every major continent, every state in the Union, and virtually every Air Force installation in the world. The group's musical virtuosity and sheer elegance have earned it the recognition of world leaders and have delighted millions of listeners across the globe. The United States Air Force Strings is proud to represent our country as a component of The United States Air Force Band.
